We support the TVStud initiative

The wages of student employees in Berlin’s tertiary education system haven’t risen since 2001. Now they’re striking for better work conditions and a more open education system. The SKB supports their initiative.

The SKB sees itself as a space in which people with very different personal and cultural backgrounds learn and work with each other. We see the participants in our courses and activities have a great variety of different national, cultural, sexual, religious, etc., identities. The acceptance of this diversity makes up the core of our self-image. If you should feel discriminated against in one of our courses or science courses, antisemitic, homophobe, transphobe or otherwise discriminatory behavior and actions, please confide in the teacher or come to our office to let us know.

Check out our cultural program this winter semester

We offer concerts, readings and film screenings at Multikulticafé.

What is the SKB?

You can read more about our project here.

A related project | The "Learning workshop"

Do you already know the "Lernwerkstatt" (learning workshop)? It is a place in which people learn creatively and self-determined as a group. The project of one of our members is currently seeking "Lernbegleitende*innen", i.e. people who would like to share their knowledge and abilities with others as volunteers. It is possible to organize a theme evening, offer workshops, regular discussion groups or study groups. The target audience is everyone who wants to learn, no matter what their age.

Currently the Lernwerkstatt is looking for people who would like to offer a cultural evening in which they provide a little insight into their language, culture and country. This series of evenings will take place in July and August on Saturday afternoons.
If you are interested, get in contact with www.die-lernwerkstatt.org!